Join Army Community Service for Care Team Training on May 14. Discover how you can become a Care Team volunteer, offering invaluable support to families after they have been notified of a loved one's serious illness or casualty. The Care Team focuses on offering practical assistance and emotional support to families in need on a short-term basis, before other family members can provide additional support. This crucial support helps families cope during difficult times, whether it be due to a deployment or any other traumatic situation involving casualty assistance.
